

Behind the Headlines

Annotated Front Page

▼ Skyline

This panel helps to market the paper by tempting readers inside to other stories.

TED TALKS!

Jason Sudeikis, creator and star of Ted Lasso, on his next goals

In the magazine

Special spring offer
Subscribe to the Observer and save up to 50%
See page 55

Suella or Cruella?

Braverman, by those who know her best

New Review

▼ Date and price

Costs of the paper are covered by a combination of the cover price and ads.

▼ Masthead

A specially designed logo showing the name of the newspaper.

The Observer

19

From £1.57 for subscribers
www.observer.co.uk
Sunday 14 May 2023
£3.80

Tory anarchy breaks out as revolt looms on Brexit laws

- Ex-ministers slam Sunak's leadership
- Pro-Johnson wing calls for lower taxes

election incensed droppin 4,000 E cipline v integrati

▲ Headline

The biggest headline is the "main splash". This is a serious story so there are no jokes.

▲ Standfirst

Used to add detail that was not included in the headline.

Tory party as former cabinet ministers openly criticised the direction of policy under his leadership and dozens of backbench MPs plotted a new rebellion over Brexit.

Amid recriminations over the heavy Conservative losses in recent council ing at the inaugu- rance of the pro-Boris Conservative Democratic on (CDO) in Bournemouth, former home secretary suggested the party's high under Sunak was respon- sible for the losses.

In a clear swipe at those now in charge, she said some senior figures at Westminster had "done a better job at damaging our party" over the past year than Labour. She also criticised MPs for removing Johnson, saying they had overseen the "ousting of our most electorally successful prime

◀ Kickers

These teasers for other stories with page numbers catch a reader's eye.

Observer Comment
"The pretence that Brexit was a magic fix for our woes has had terrible consequences"
This section, page 42

▲ Edition Dots

We print up to three different editions per night. One dot means this is the first edition.

Going down ...

Prime minister Rishi Sunak watching from the stands at Southampton's St Mary's stadium yesterday as his team were relegated from the Premier League after losing 2-0 at home to Fulham. (Sport, page 4) James Marsh/Shutterstock

▼ Caption

These describe the photograph and link it to the news story. Often they include the photographer's name.

Revealed: highest earners to pay less for degrees

Jon Ungoed-Thomas

▲ Byline

The name of the writer(s). Sometimes their job title or location is included.

Under the suggestion of the government, student loans in England for more than a decade, many lower-paid earners face an increase in their total lifetime repayments of more than £30,000. Meanwhile, earning graduates will see repayments fall by £25,000 compared with previous arrangements. The analysis by the consultancy London Economics research forecasts that a graduate earning £37,000 by the end of their career will pay back £63,100 over the course of their career, while a graduate earning £70,000 would

Body Text

The main text of a news story, written by the reporter.

Gavan Conlon, a senior partner in economics, said: "This is a massive subsidy to predominantly white, predominantly male. It's deeply regressive." The Royal College of Physicians, Royal College of Surgeons and Royal Society of Medicine are a disgrace and a disproportionately high cost to the taxpayer.

"It means nurses will be paying

Turn ▶

Often front page stories continue elsewhere in the paper.

Continued on page 11 >>