

A man who lives and works in Berlin said...

News
WISE

"I saw something in the bushes and quickly grabbed my phone to get a video. It looked like it could have been a lion, but I'm not sure."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A circus manager working in Berlin said...

News
WISE

"I think it's a type of dog. If it's a lion I will eat a broom."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A journalist working in Berlin said...

News
WISE

"The rules about keeping dangerous animals are not always very clear. It is possible that this could be somebody's pet lion."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A wildlife expert from another city said...

News
WISE

"The video does not look like a lion to me. Its back is curved and its tail looks different to a lion's."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A joke social media account in the USA said...

News
WISE

"This is happening because of global warming. Lions are starting to move into Germany because it is as hot as their normal habitat."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A local living near the area of the search said...

News
WISE

"My window was open, and I heard the sound of a lion's roar!"

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

An internet user in the UK said...

News
WISE

"When I looked online, I saw pictures of the lion walking through the middle of the city. I can't believe they haven't caught it yet!"

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!

A comedian from Berlin said...

News
WISE

"I don't know why people think it's a lion. It's clearly just a house cat with a cool haircut."

How believable is this source?

1

Definitely not believable!

2

Not sure about this...

3

Totally believable!